Still Has Comeback Capability

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo struck today to a northward course that forecasters believe will bring her trail of death and destruction to an end over Georgia.

The savage winds that left 138 dead in the Caribbean and a trail of destruction up Florida's Gold Coast had dropped to gentle, 40-mile breezes.

And Cleo showed no tendency to leave the coast to which she had stuck so long and move out over warm Atlantic waters that would revitalize her.

Hurricane warnings remained up to the northward. Forecaster Arnold Sugg said he dared not take them down at the moment. But he was confident that Cleo would move further inland where she would be finished by land friction.

At 11 a.m., EST, the eye was centered a short distance northwest of St. Augustine. Northward, the coast begins to bend to the northeast. On her due-north track, Cleo would start working inland at Brunswick, Ga.

Sugg predicted that Cleo would show further weakening late tonight and would move to the west of Savannah, Ga.

Nimbus Satellite Up

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A camera-carrying Nimbus satellite rocketed into orbit today and began taking "excellent" pictures expected to provide history's first day-and-night watch on the world's weather from space.

U.S. Space Agency officials said the first pictures — of Florida, Louisiana and the Gulf of Mexico — appeared to have excellent quality.

Steal Rubber Checks

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Burglars who broke into the office of Memorial Cemetery ignored a large safe, presumably because a sign atop it said truthfully: "Records only kept here."

But they took a metal box filled with checks that had bounced.

LBJ Heads For Texas

Full Gallop Start On Campaign Trail

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — President Johnson rode out at full gallop on the campaign trail today with a call for his party to convert wavering Democrats and corral the Republicans he said are deserting their own ticket.

Then he headed for Texas with his running mate Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey to plan strategy over the weekend at the LBJ Ranch.

In an expansive mood carrying over from his triumph Thursday night in Convention Hall where he accepted the nomination for a term of his own, Johnson told a session of the Democratic National Committee that the opportunity is at hand "to build a true national party."

"The American people are going to win one of their finest victories in November," he said.

Then he turned to the "backlash and frontlash" comparison he has been stressing for days, repeating his reports that while the Democrats are dropping 10 to 15 per cent of their votes in white reaction to racial developments, according to polls, the Republicans under Sen. Barry Goldwater are losing moderates and liberals numbering about 30 per cent of their force.

"When you can get 3 to 1 it's always satisfying," Johnson said.

As if to emphasize anew his word that the campaign will be run basically by the national committee, Johnson suggested that all the party officers be re-elected to go right back to work.

That was done by acclamation and then Johnson and Humphrey set out for the airport to do their planning, as Johnson had phrased it, "in the shade of the live oaks on the banks of the Pedernales."

They took off for Texas at 12:20 p.m.

Shift Made In Highway Patrol Zones

Trooper Glenn Means of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, effective Tuesday, Sept. 1, will be promoted to sergeant succeeding Sgt. Fred Barnes of Warrensburg who has resigned effective Aug. 31.

Lt. D. S. Gehrig, of Lee's Summit, headquarters for Troop A, announced Thursday the resignation of Barnes and the promotion of Means by Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Patrol, on recommendation of Capt. G. W. Pate, commander of Troop A.

As a result the resignation of Barnes and promotion of Means has brought about a realignment of the two zones in this east and southeast area. The new zones will be Pettis and Johnson Counties, which Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle will supervise and Benton and Henry counties under Sgt. Means. Changing the zones makes it possible for both Van Winkle and Means to remain in their present towns.

Means has been stationed at Warsaw for the past 16 years and Sgt. Van Winkle has been stationed in Sedalia for 11 years.

Jet Fighter Crash Kills Sikeston Man

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Jack P. Bowman, 33, a native of Sikeston, Mo., was killed Thursday when an Air Force F106 jet fighter crashed at nearby Tyndall Air Force base.

The second pilot, Capt. James N. McClellan of Capehart, Fla., escaped with only minor burns when he ejected from the crippled plane.

The Delta Dart jet crashed about 10 miles east of Tyndall following an explosion during a test flight.

Bowman was the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bowman of Sikeston. His widow and a one-year-old son, both of Capehart, survive.

Interpretive Report

Middle of Road Position Dull Place for Democrats

By J. A. DEAR
Democrat-Capital
Convention Correspondent

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — The Democrats have now occupied the middle of the road that the Republicans evacuated in San Francisco, but it took the strong arm of President Johnson to get them there, and they're finding it a rather dull place.

Most of the convention was to the left of its candidate. Emotionally it was prepared to draft a more liberal platform, seat the Freedom Democratic Party delegates from Mississippi, let the south go. But that's not the Johnson way.

At the end the convention lost its heart again as it remembered John Kennedy, got its emotional lift from Hubert Humphrey, and then settled back to listen to President Johnson.

Perhaps that is the secret of his power: men listen to him. What the convention wondered is how he does it. And if he will be able to lean through the tele-

Living Cost Up Sharply

Three Tenths Of Per Cent During July

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in July, the largest rise in a year, the Labor Department reported today.

However, the increase "does not appear startling" in view of general price behavior over the past 10 years, a spokesman for the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

Sharp increases in prices for meats, fresh fruits and vegetables were the main factors in the over-all July rise of the consumer price index to 108.3.

This index reading means it cost $10.83 in July to purchase items that could be bought for $10 in the 1957-59 period, used as a base of 100 in the price calculations.

A 2.2 per cent increase in prices for meats, poultry and fish boosted the over-all food index nine-tenths of one per cent from June to July.

Sidney A. Jaffe, deputy assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the figure did not reflect any increases from the withholding of meat animals from markets by some producers. He said the effects of this, if any, would not show up until the September index.

Prohibition Party Selects a Candidate

CHICAGO (AP) — The Prohibition party's candidate for president says he regards socialism, secularism, alcoholism, obscene literature and "that satanic menace," communism, as threats to the nation's well-being.

E. Harold Munn, in a speech to the Prohibition party convention Thursday, said the country should meet the evils "with a vigorous and dynamic program of constructive Christian action."

Some 56 delegates attended the party's national campaign convention.

Munn, 59, head of the education department at Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Mich., told newsmen the party's goal is to take over leadership of the nation's government.

Heart Attack Is Fatal

Gracie Allen Dead

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gracie Allen, whose scatterbrained comedy helped make Burns and Allen a top act in show business for 34 years, died Thursday night after a heart attack. She was 58.

Spokesmen for the family said Miss Allen died at 11:15 p. m. and that her husband, comedy actor George Burns, was at her side at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Contacted at the Burns home in Beverly Hills, William Burns, George's brother, said the popular comedienne had been in seemingly good health before being stricken.

He said she had experienced mild heart attacks in the past. They didn't, however, seem to slow her down much. Ten days ago she and her husband were among the guests at the gala wedding reception for Edie Adams and her new husband, Marty Mills.

She appeared effervescent and cheerful, as she has been since her retirement in 1958.

Until then, the strain of sustaining her nitwit role sometimes made her tense and withdrawn.

At the time of her retirement,

New Clashes In Viet Nam

Bayonets Halt Battle; One Dead, Several Hurt

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese Buddhist and Roman Catholic students clashed again today in this riot-torn capital. Paratroopers then moved in with fixed bayonets and broke up the battle.

At least one Buddhist student was killed, bringing to nine the confirmed number of dead in two days of religious clashes. Several others were injured in the latest fighting.

Buddhist students, using gasoline bombs, tried for the second time in the day to burn the Catholic newspaper Xay Dung.

They were met by groups of Catholics. Both mobs were wielding machetes, iron pipes, steel bars, bamboo rods and wooden clubs. They hurled bricks and stones at each other.

Fires broke out in front of the newspaper and spilled gasoline caused black blazes in the street.

The Education Ministry announced that all private and public schools in Saigon and its suburbs are being closed until further notice. The measure is aimed at bringing student rioting under control. The street gangs have defied pleas from Catholic, Buddhist and government leaders to stop the brawling.

Police and soldiers stationed around the newspaper were unable to hold back all the students. Repeatedly some broke through the lines to attack the building and throw rocks at Catholic students standing on balconies of the school building. The Catholic students also threw rocks.

Military trucks pulled up and disgorged heavily armed paratroopers wearing protective jackets.

After the body of the dead Buddhist had been carried away — his bloody head wrapped in dirty cloth — students scooped up his blood in a container. Others dipped their hands in the blood and rubbed in on their faces and arms.

Old political and religious antagonisms between Buddhists and Roman Catholics that led to the downfall last November of President Ngo Dinh Diem's government stirred the fighting.

The instability in the Communist-threatened nation posed a major test for the triumvirate of Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh and two other top officers selected by the military junta to lead South Viet Nam for two months.

Lucien Richards, St. Louis CORE chairman, said tests were made by four groups of Negro and white CORE members in Eastern Missouri. Richards said the survey by CORE found that most of 94 business places checked were complying with the Civil Rights Act.

"Generally, our groups were well received," Richards said. "In most instances, waitresses or motel desk clerks were friendly or indifferent."

"But," he said, "we are all working for the day when there will be full compliance with the Federal Civil Rights Act."

Richards said the CORE teams had made tests of the public accommodations section of the act only. The complaints filed by Oldham said that in the cases mentioned, the test group was either refused service, overcharged or intimidated.

Car-Boat Trailer Collision Is Fatal

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — Mrs. James Thomason, 23, of Missouri City died in a hospital after her car collided with a boat being towed on a trailer on U. S. 71 bypass Thursday.

Two other members of her family were injured, none seriously.

Kids Flock to The Fair

SATURDAY, SUNDAY
Fair Program, Page 10

The Missouri State Fair entered its fifth day today dedicated to the "Kids" of Missouri. Youngsters, some with parents, others on their own arrived on the fairgrounds early in the day, taking advantage of the free gate to those 12 years old and under, and the cutrate rides on the midway.

The program this afternoon featured Aut Swenson's Thrill-ride show in front of the grandstand.

Tonight the State Championship Modified Jolopy Races on the lighted half-mile track start at 7 o'clock.

Starting today will be the Bait Casting Tournament at the Conservation Commission Wildlife pavilion casting pool. The State Horseshoe Pitching Tournament also opens today at the east end of the grandstand course.

High school bands on the fair grounds today are from Holden and Glasgow. Saturday bands will come from Hume, California, Marshfield, Hartville, Fayette, Excelsior Springs and Pleasant Hill.

A new State Champion Barbecue King was named Thursday evening when more than 25 backyard chefs displayed their skill in the annual chicken barbecue, held on the south lawn of the Administration building. They were judged on skill in using equipment; thoroughness of cooking, taste and appearance.

The men were the best in this year's Cooking. The only woman in the winners placed sixth. Each contestant cooked three chicken halves which were furnished by the fair, each contestant bringing to the fair his own barbecue, grill equipment, fuel and sauce. There was an array of barbecue grills of all shapes, many commercial, others home made.

The 1964 King is Tolliver Lawson, Tusculumbia, who scored a 96.5; second place to James William Fault, Route 5, Salem, who scored a 96; Kenneth Schilb, 2408 Dennis Road, Sedalia, the 1960 King, placed third with a 94.0 score. Tom Baker, 1402 South Warren, Sedalia, fourth with 93.5; Donald Held, Morrison, Mo., fifth with a 93.0; and Mrs. Jerry Manes, Route 1, Stoutland, sixth with 92.5 and Jerry Manes of Stoutland was seventh with a 91.5; and William Bodine, 1619 West 14th Street, eighth with a 91.0.

Official attendance figures for the first six days of the fair show there were 166,827 persons on the grounds as compared to the 159,432 for the first six days of the 1963 fair. This shows a gain for the six days of 7,395 over the 1963 period. Thursday's figures were 22,911 as compared with 25,366 on the 1963 Thursday, or a loss of 2,455 for the day.

Although Monday on through Thursday gave a loss on comparative days, last Sunday the fair had a total of 50,210, compared with 38,663 for the opening Sunday of 1963 or a gain of 11,547. (Sunday's attendance was revised from the original 48,000-plus total given Monday.)

Miss Karen Thompson, 18, of Centralia, Mo., who was first runner-up to the Missouri Queen of Fairs, Miss Jennifer Horton of Stockton, was chosen by other contestants in the Queen contest as Miss Congeniality. Miss Thompson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Thompson of Centralia. She represented the Boone County Fair and Horse Show.

Bands on the grounds Thursday came from Peculiar, Brunswick Westphalia, Slater, Marcelline and Conway.

Highlighting the Thursday evening grandstand program was the million-dollar livestock and machinery parade. Prize and valuable livestock was lead around the parade route while every piece of moveable farm machinery was used in the parade.

The parade formed along the roadway in front of the Administration Building, routed through the paddock gate up along the mile race track in front of the grandstand and off of the track at a gate south of the grandstand. Several thousand fair goers in the large bleachers and grandstand witnessed the spectacle.

The parade was led by members of the State Highway Patrol, Pettis County Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and Chief of Police of Sedalia William Miller, followed by the famous White-man Air Force Base Color guard.

Visiting high school bands on the grounds also participated. Missouri's Queen of Fairs, Miss Jennifer Horton, of Stockton, Mo., began her reign over the remaining days of the Missouri State Fair, making personal appearances at the various activities on the grounds.

The 17-year-old, blue-eyed, brunette received the applause of fair goers where ever she appeared. She represented the Stockton (Mo.) Black Walnut Festival in the contest for Missouri's Queen of Fairs.

Our Savior To Receive New Members

"Are You Thankful?" will be the theme of Rev. M. Sackschewsky's sermon at Our Savior Lutheran Church on West U. S. 50 at 9 a.m. Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Fay Sanders and daughter, Kathy, will be received into membership at the morning service. Announcements for Holy Communion will be taken after the service for those who will partake of the blessed Sacrament on Sept. 6.

Mr. Charles Conover, the new teacher for the third and fourth grades at St. Paul's Lutheran School, will be installed at the 8 p.m. service at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Principal Clifford Koenig will be installed at 10:30 a.m. service at St. Paul's.

The Walther Leaguers will have a swimming party, Sunday afternoon at Liberty Park, from 4 to 7:30 p.m. The leaguers will bring a sack lunch and they will conduct a closing devotion at the park.

Rev. Sackschewsky and family will attend the Circuit Pastors' Conference at St. John's Lutheran Church, Cole Camp. The Walther League board will meet Wednesday at 3:15 p.m. at the LaMonte High School. The nominations committee will meet Wednesday 7:30 p.m. to draw up a slate of congregational officers for 1965. In October the Voters' Assembly will elect a member to each of the following official boards: elders, evangelism, education, stewardship, trustees, finance, and also a president, vice president and secretary.

The Sunday School staff will meet Thursday at 7:30 in the Church basement. The board of education will meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Junior Confirmation class will meet for the first time Saturday, Sept. 5, at 9 a.m. This will be a joint meeting of the parents and the children, at which time the confirmation program will be explained to the children and the parents.

A Communion confessional service will be held Saturday at 8 p.m. in the church for preparation for Holy Communion Sept. 6.

Rev. Sackschewsky will begin a new adult instruction class at the church. There are approximately 10 persons who plan to attend the classes. The religious instruction class will cover various Biblical doctrines such as: what does the Bible say about: God, Man, Sin, the Law, Gospel, Jesus Christ, Holy Spirit, Prayer, Baptism, Lord's Supper, the Church, and Eternal Life. The class is open to members and non-members alike. The class is a prerequisite to church membership.

First Christian To Hold Regular Service

St. Paul's Addition Under Construction

Architect's Drawing of Addition to St. Paul's Lutheran Educational Building

An addition to St. Paul's Lutheran educational building is now under construction. The addition will join the east end of the present building on Seventh and Massachusetts.

Included in the new structure, covering an area of 115 by 90 feet, will be four classrooms, gymnasium, stage, office and rest rooms. The corridor will join the corridor of the present building. The project is to be completed within the next few months.

The educational wing now under construction has been designed by the architectural firm of Sammons and Buller. The general contractor is the Dean Construction Co.

The church's expansion program began in 1950 with the purchase of the property just north of the church. For the next several years the house on this property was used for educational facilities. In 1955 the congregation dedicated the present educational building, containing two classrooms, confirmation room, twelve Sunday School rooms, offices, assembly room, kitchen and rest rooms. Since then a temporary classroom has been added.

A kindergarten was opened in 1957. After two years of successful operation of the kindergarten, the church opened a Christian Day School with the first two grades. An additional grade has been added each year, and now the school has classes for kindergarten through grade seven. The additional rooms will provide needed space for the growing school.

Principal of the school is Clifford W. Koenig, who came to St. Paul's from New York this past summer. He will teach the upper grades. Other teachers in the school will be Charles Conover, Jr., Mrs. Fred Wagner and Mrs. E. G. Mueller.

Sunday School Promotion At First Methodist

The Rev. Charles B. Cheffey, pastor of First Methodist Church, will use "His Kingdom and Our Response" for his sermon subject Sunday at the worship service. Mrs. Donald Barnes will sing "Blessed Are the Pure in Heart" by Stephens.

Sunday is Promotion Day in the Sunday School. Children and young people will be promoted according to grade in school. All will receive certificates of promotion and those going from the primary department will receive Bibles and those going from the junior department will receive testaments.

Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship will leave Monday for a three day planning retreat at Camp Galilee near Eldorado Springs. They will leave the church at 10 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mowry are counselors for this group and will be with them. The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Cheffey will also be with them. They will be in a Pioneer Camp—camping in covered wagons.

Boy Scout Troop 54 left Friday morning for a two-night camp out on an island on the lake. They will return early Sunday morning.

St. Paul's School Principal Installed At Morning Worship

The new principal of St. Paul's Lutheran Christian Day School, Clifford W. Koenig, will be installed Sunday morning in the 10:30 worship service. Charles Conover, Jr., the new teacher of grades 3 and 4, will be inducted in the service at 8 a.m. In both services the Rev. Walter F. Strickert will preach on the topic, "The Teaching Church."

Sunday the board of elders will meet at 8 p.m.

Boy Scout Troop 69 will meet Monday at 7 p.m. The troop committee will meet at 9 p.m.

Registrations for the Christian Day School and kindergarten will be received Tuesday, Sept. 1, from 9 a.m. to noon, and from 1 to 3 p.m. The first day of school will be Tuesday, Sept. 8.

Tuesday the Men's Club will meet at 8 p.m.

Wednesday evening the Walther League will have business meeting at 7:30. The executive board will meet at 6:45.

Thursday afternoon the Ladies Aid will meet at 2 o'clock.

'God Is Limited' To Be Topic At Bethany

Rev. A. E. Williams, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church, will speak Sunday on "God Is Limited" at the 10:35 worship hour. Sunday School begins at 9:30 with Guy Rumsey, associate superintendent, in charge. Classes for every age group. Nursery for the worship hour.

Training Union at 6:30 with Mrs. J. W. Mickens, in charge. Evening worship at 7:30 with pastor's subject "Obedience." Monday — We will go to the Campbell Nursing Home with a short program of singing and devotionals. Every woman of the church is urged to take part in this.

Tuesday — Associational Mission Study Institute at the First Baptist Church.

Wednesday — Prayer service and Bible study at 7:30. Choir rehearsal 8:30 under the direction of Mrs. Mike McKenzie.

Nominating committee will also meet at the pastor's study at 8:30.

Calvary Baptist To Recognize College Students

"On to College Day," a service recognizing college students will be held in the evening worship hour at 8 Sunday at Calvary Baptist Church. Students in high school and college will be taking part in the service.

The pastor will bring a message on "Gideon, the Hero." Rev. Charles Hendrickson will also bring a message in the 10:45 morning worship hour. The church choir will sing, "When the Morning Comes." Jim Miller will lead the congregation in singing church hymns.

Monday evening at 7 o'clock the kindergarten committee will meet. Joe Forsee will preside and plans will be made for the opening of the kindergarten school. The church is still accepting enrollments. Those interested in the school may call TA 6-5011 or TA 6-4049.

Sunday School officers and teachers meeting will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. The church business meeting begins at 7:45 followed by choir practice.

The deacons of the church will meet this Saturday, Aug. 29, at 7 o'clock for their regular monthly meeting.

The Training Union will meet at 6:45 p.m. Lively group discussions concerning the Bible and related subjects is held each Sunday night. Visitors are welcome and members are urged to attend.

Federated To Hold Regular Services Sunday

The sermon topic for Sunday at the Federated Church by Rev. Leonard Reifel will be: "A Spiritual Center and Purpose." Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Raabe will greet the worshippers at the doors. Mrs. Morris Lees, organist, will play as prelude: "The Heart of God" by McAfee, as offertory: "Beside Still Waters" by Richolson, as postlude: "All Hail the Power" by Lane.

Sunday morning at services the congregation will be requested to write on the back of their registration cards the number of their favorite hymn which will help the pastor, organist and choir to select familiar hymns from Sunday to Sunday.

The Church Council will meet Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church parlor.

The annual planning-retreat for the year's program will be held at the church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The officers of the various organizations of the church are asked to be present to plan the activities and programs for the coming year.

Boy Scout Troop 51 will not meet until Sept. 14.

The choir will rehearse Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Carl Wehrli To Speak At LDS Church

The speaker at 11 a.m. Sunday at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will be teacher Carl Wehrli. His sermon topic will be "Blessed Are They Which Do Hunger and Thirst After Righteousness for They Shall Be Filled." Mrs. Carl Wehrli will play "By the Waters of Galilee" as organ prelude. Special music will be an organ and piano duet by Mrs. Wehrli and Mrs. Nelson Pugh. "Lead Kindly Light."

Morning devotions at 9:45 a.m.

At 7:30 p.m. the Zions League will be in charge of the service, after which ice cream and cake will be served in the lower auditorium.

Prayer service Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

First Baptists To Hear Guest Speaker Sunday

Dr. B. A. Pugh will occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist Church Sunday while the pastor, Rev. J. R. Wallace and family are vacationing with their relatives in Oklahoma. Formerly interim pastor at the First Baptist Church, Dr. Pugh has served in over 20 churches in the state in a similar capacity since his "retirement" a few years ago.

The church welcomed many visitors from the State Fair in the worship services last Sunday. The red carpet will be out again Sunday to the fair visitors in our city.

Special music for the morning worship service will be presented by Mrs. Stanley Fisher and Mrs. Jim Gwinn, who will sing the offertory duet, and Mr. Raymond G. Hall singing "Christ Is Real" as the choral worship.

The choir under the direction of Raymond G. Hall, minister of music and education, will present "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" as the choral worship for the evening service. A male quartet will sing "Under His Wings" as the offertory.

New Hope Baptists Hold Regular Services

The New Hope Baptist Church Sunday morning message will be "Failure, Faith, Fortune." The Sunday night topic will be "Joy."

The regular teachers and officers will meet Wednesday. The Hour of Power service will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Miss Virginia Lewis and Mr. Gary Paul will be married Friday at 7 p.m. The church is invited to attend.

Mt. Herman Baptists To Hold Prayer Meet

Mt. Herman Baptist Church, North 65 Highway, will begin holding prayer service Wednesday evenings at 7:45 p.m.

Rev. Warren Green will use as his sermon topic for Sunday, "Loving Promises," at the 11 a.m. worship hour.

Starting Wednesday, Sept. 2, there will be a class on teaching the Baptist Doctrine.

Rev. Fjeld Completes Sermon Series Sunday

"Why Does God Repent?" will be the theme of the message this Sunday at Christ Lutheran Church. It is the final message in a series on the Prophet Jonah, and brings to a close a summer of preaching on the great men of the Old Testament.

Standing committees of the Central District of the American Lutheran Church will meet Sept. 1 and 2 at Dana College, Blair, Neb. Christ Lutheran Church will be represented at the meetings by Victor Balke, serving on the district youth committee; and Pastor Fjeld, serving as chairman of the district public relations committee.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am going with a nut. Last night when he arrived to take me to a party he had a black patch over a perfectly good eye. At first I was frightened. I thought something terrible might have happened to him. I should have known better. He is always doing crazy things like that.

If the party is formal he wears a dinner jacket — and tennis shoes. Or instead of a formal shirt, he'll wear a turtleneck sweater or an ascot.

Last year he grew a half a mustache. I refused to kiss him till he shaved it off. (It took three weeks before he gave in.)

Last week he tried to pay a bar bill with Chinese money. He got into an argument with the bartender and I was embarrassed to tears. We were asked to leave.

Believe it or not, he has many fine qualities and is considered a good catch. I'd like to marry him, but frankly I'm afraid. What do you say? — SHAKEY SHIELA.

Dear Shakey: If these small-boy antics embarrass you now, I can promise you that after marriage they will drive you out of your mind.

A guy who is as flakey as this one sounds would probably sign the marriage certificate with invisible ink—then where would you be, Toots?

Dear Ann Landers: We gave our daughter a telephone of her own for her 16th birthday. It was what Linda wanted most in all the world. She begged for it for two years. To be honest, I was happy to see her get her own telephone because our line was constantly tied up by her calls. This is what happened:

The other evening my husband and I were out. He was expecting an important business call and tried to telephone home to learn if the call had come through. Well, he tried for 30 minutes to get our line without success. He finally got so mad he got into the car and drove home. There he found Linda,

I am sick about this. Do you feel I should stay home for a full year as the girls said? I want to go out with this man again, but not at the expense of creating trouble in the family. Your views are welcome — ANNA-MARIE.

Accepted Annamaria: Before you accepted the date you consulted an excellent authority — your clergyman. He gave you what I feel was superb advice, and I hope you will continue to follow it. If the girls have any further criticism, direct them to HIM.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

All in Favor Say "Neigh"

Missouri delegates to the Democrat national convention who planned a donkey parade on the Atlantic City boardwalk before going back to Convention hall for Thursday night's windup, may be interested in a proposal to the national committee to consider changing the party's symbol.

The suggestion came from the Committee for the Diving Horse.

Governor John M. Dalton, chairman of the Missouri delegation, described the donkey parade as a publicity gimmick.

Well, so is the suggestion of the Diving Horse committee composed of business men in Atlantic City where trained horses regularly dive off a 75-foot tower. We have seen this done at expositions like the Missouri State Fair which is currently operating without a diving horse but lots of other types in the horse show and on the race track, not to mention a fine assortment of mules for which Missouri is famous.

The suggestion for changing the Democratic symbol from a donkey to a horse is predicated on the generally accepted assumption that the donkey is stupid and obstinate by nature and definition, whereas the horse is revered as noble and courageous.

The committee for the change further presses its case by this graphic description of their chosen symbol: "The diving horse in particular, with a beautiful girl astride, is an ideal image of fearlessness in jumping into the swim of things."

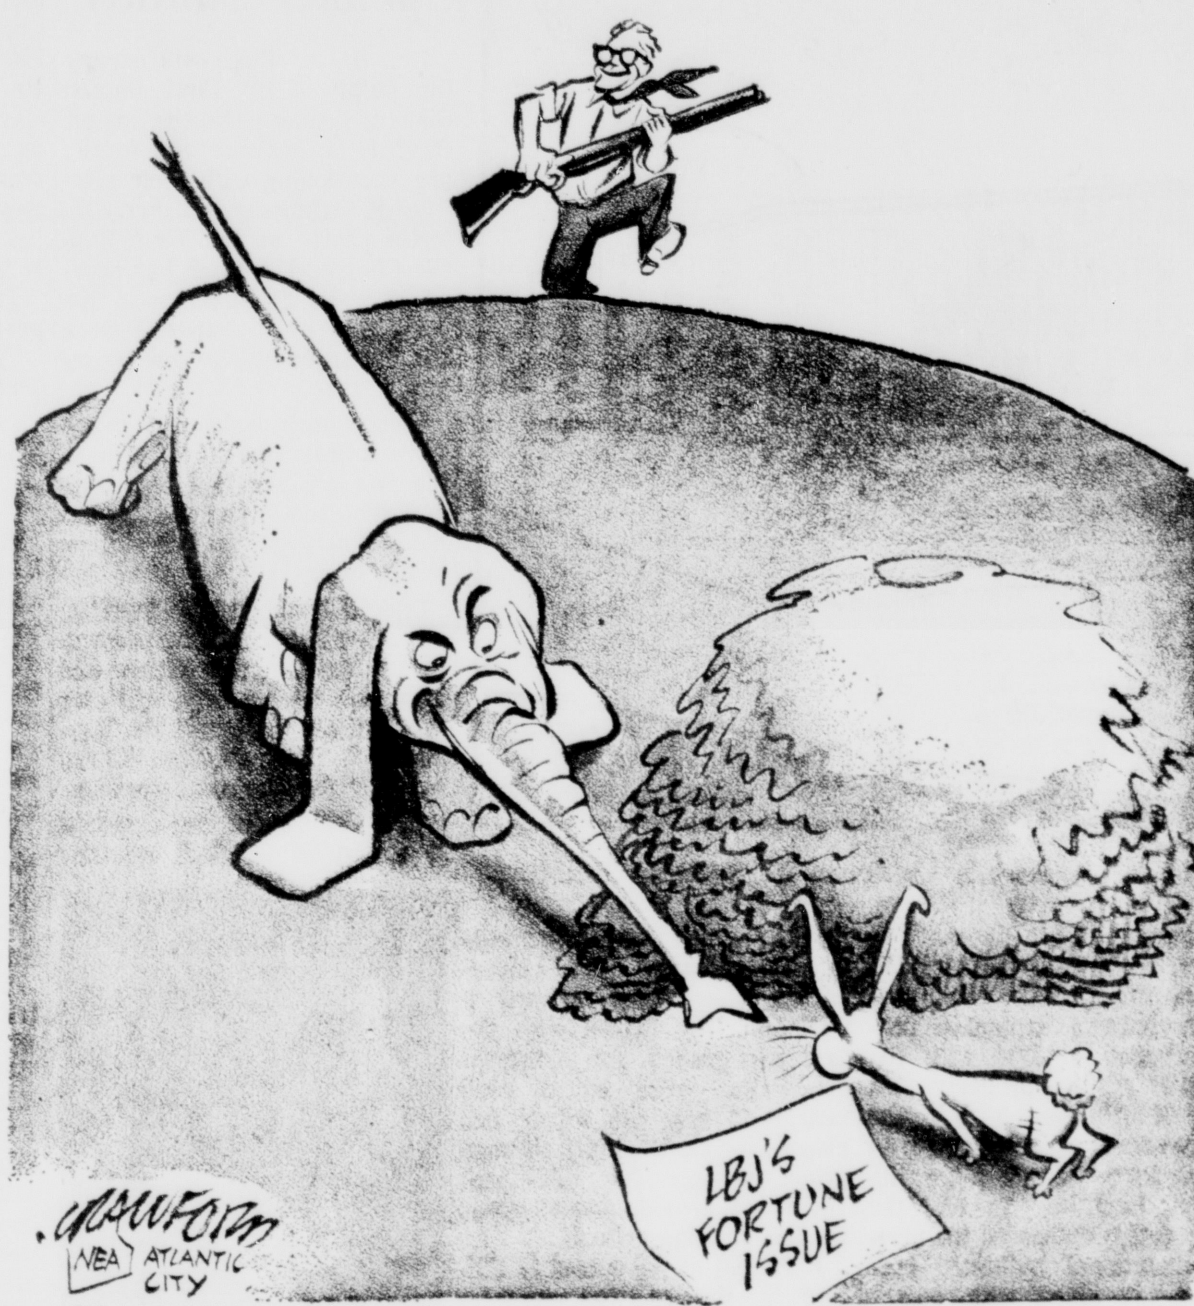

Judging from results at the national convention about the only appropriate modification of the Democratic symbol at this time, instead of a girl on a horse, might be inclusion of the images of Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey astride a donkey.

The donkey may be classified as stupid and obstinate but the Democratic candidates for President and Vice-President whose acceptance speeches were heard Thursday night very likely will change any negative characteristics of that animal before the general election in November.

With that in prospect the horse hasn't a chance to displace the braying donkey as the Democratic Party's symbol. So horse fanciers, by their suggestion, are simply neighing up the wrong road.

The World Today

Unique Line Taken By Nominees

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, in accepting the Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominations, have taken a line unique in this generation.

Without saying it flatly, they made the point that their fight in this campaign is not so much with the Republican party as with the supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

In doing this they sought to make the Democratic party — by calling it a "people's party" and a "national party" — a rallying point for all anti-Goldwater forces in or out of the Republican party.

But if Johnson and Humphrey follow the technique they used Thursday night at the Democratic convention, Johnson will be making lofty speeches without direct name-calling while Humphrey tries to hit Goldwater between the eyes.

Johnson was mild, talking of the needs and the glorious possibilities of the future and never once mentioned either the Republicans or Goldwater by name. He presented himself as a man with his eyes on the future.

The more earthy Humphrey talked of the here and now, in this case the fight against Goldwater whom he named by name. Like Johnson, Humphrey was gentle on the Republicans as a party.

Item by item he mentioned major programs approved by Congress in the past few years in which he said Democrats and Republicans joined forces while Goldwater disapproved. Just how long Johnson retains his aloof and above-the-strife technique may depend on how soon, and to what degree, Goldwater starts to butt heads with him directly. Goldwater has not been reluctant to do this in the past.

But while Johnson refrained from directly mentioning Goldwater by name, he made statements which could not be interpreted as anything but swipes at the Arizona senator.

"The contest today," Johnson said, "is not between liberals and conservatives, party and party, platform and platform. It is between those who see what can be and those who want only to maintain the status quo."

He pitched his speech on the theme that the nation has a lot of unfinished business — particularly programs in the social welfare field — and that under his leadership they would be fulfilled.

Then, building up to the oblique assault on Goldwater, Johnson said that for 30 years men of both parties have "built a solid foundation for our present prosperity."

He added: "Too many have worked too hard and too long to see this threatened now by policies which promise to undo all we have done together."

Democrat Pick-ups

SIX-YEAR-OLD Tommy received a quarter of a pound box from a grownup friend who was on a trip to Colorado. The box was filled with small rocks and his mother took them over to show to a neighbor.

"Tommy," she said, "received this box of rocks from Colorado from our mutual friend."

After everyone in the household had looked at the unusual and pretty pebbles and they were discussing them, the woman happened to look down at the box and noticed, in very small print the word "Contents." She read on, "sugar, flavoring," etc.

She was surprised and now she had her doubts about those "rocks of Colorado" that was printed in large letters on the top of the box.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Pap Test May Detect Throat, Stomach Cancer

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Q — I recently read that the Pap test could be used to detect cancer of the mouth. Would this apply to cancer of the throat also?

A — Since the Papanicolaou or Pap test consists of a microscopic examination of a smear or discharge for isolated cancer cells, it can be applied to several locations including sputum from the lungs or bronchial tubes, washing from the stomach and smears from the throat. Usually the throat would have to be sprayed with a local anesthetic first so the swabbing could be done without causing gagging.

Q — Several months ago a tumor was removed from my leg. My doctor said it was a malignant melanoma. Is this a form of skin cancer and will it return?

A — Yes, this is a type of skin cancer. For this reason a wide area around the lesion should be removed at operation. In addition to this and following the operation, phenylalanine mustard or a related product should be injected into the affected area. When this has been done many victims of this otherwise fatal disease have been cured and have had no return of the melanoma.

Q — What causes pataka or small pinhead dots under the skin?

A — I assume you are referring to petechiae or pinpoint hemorrhages in the skin. One of the commonest causes is insect bites of various kinds. These are usually accompanied by itching. Petechiae are also seen in persons who have purpura and they are commonly associated with a great variety of acute infections. A few scattered petechiae may be seen in persons who are over 40 and who are in good health. This type is of no significance.

Q — About 10 years ago I had a detached retina and completely lost the sight of my right eye. One year ago while pulling hard on a large wrench I had a vitreous hemorrhage in my good eye which left me with only 50 per cent vision in that eye. Could straining have caused these injuries?

A — Extreme exertion might cause a hemorrhage into the vitreous humor (gelatinous portion) of the eyeball but other causes would have to be considered. Straining would not cause the retinal detachment. In most cases this occurs spontaneously although this and the vitreous hemorrhage may be caused by a severe blow on the head.

Rake for a Frank Rack

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY — Last year when we had a large group of children at a wiener roast, my husband quickly loaded a fine-tined leaf rake with hot dogs. In just a few minutes all the children were satisfied and the adults were able to settle down and eat in peace. Now he has reserved that rake for picnics with no more lost patience. — JUSTINE

DEAR POLLY — When men's pants are worn out and ready to be thrown away, the pockets are often like new. Instead of throwing away the whole garment, cut out any good pockets and use them on other pants that may have worn pockets. Many a thoughtless housewife buys new pockets instead of saving these good ones from throw-away pants. — C. J. K.

GIRLS — Do save buttons and zippers from worn garments. They usually fit some place, some time. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When you have some wet boots or shoes, bend a wire coat hanger so that the curved ends stand straight up and almost as high as the hook. Put the wet shoes on these upturned ends. Hang the hanger in some convenient spot until the shoes are dry. We find this idea most convenient and always use it. — MRS. A. W.

DEAR POLLY — When my husband goes hunting with other men, they each carry a toy police whistle. If they become lost from each other or encounter any trouble, they blow this whistle.

Replace the pulls on the zippers of baby's diaper bag with different colored diaper pins. This will let you know at a glance where to find a specific article. Also, if you break a diaper pin when away from home, you have another to replace it. — MRS. J. H. S.

DEAR POLLY — When we take our children on camping trips, we take along our small, inflatable swimming pool. We fill it with water and put it in the sun to warm the water. The children have fun playing and bathe at the same time. It puts everyone in a better mood and anyone who camps will know what a double help this is. — ELEANOR

DEAR POLLY — To keep those neck scarves looking their best, try this storage idea. Wind narrow elastic band around the lower section of a wire coat hanger. Draw a corner of each scarf under the elastic for about four inches. There can be as many scarves on one hanger as there are twists of elastic.

To prevent grabbing a pair of hose with a run in one, tie these loosely together in the middle with the toe of one and the heel of another at the same end. Those with no runs at all can be tied with toes at the same end. — SADIE

Don't Relent In Haste

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A prominent marriage counselor who has been very successful in handling marital difficulties believes that no couple should be granted a divorce if they have been wed less than three years.

That makes sense, doesn't it? If a couple enters into what is supposed to be a lifetime agreement, surely they ought to give their partnership at least a three-year trial before they make up their minds to call the whole thing off.

ing a little, "this might be candy."

She tasted one of the "rocks" and sure enough found it sweet. It was with a little embarrassment that she realized that she had been completely fooled on the rocks. They weren't rocks at all, but candy.

But what about Tommy? A rock is a rock whether it comes from Colorado or Missouri to a six-year-old — but candy — that is something different. Who wouldn't rather have candy than old rocks? — H. L.

Actually, a couple who has been married less than three years doesn't know very much about marriage.

It takes longer than that for most couples to begin to know and understand each other, and to learn a lot of important facts about marriage. For instance:

That the only really happy marriages are where the husband tries to please his wife and the wife tries to please her husband.

That no marriage is happy ALL of the time, because no person and certainly no two persons CAN be happy all of the time.

That mutual faith and mutual respect are as necessary to a lasting marriage as love, and that without them love can easily turn to loathing.

That a couple needs some mutual goal to strive toward. When one goal is reached, another should be set up. It's the couples who are coasting along aimlessly who get into difficulties most often or start fighting just to relieve the boredom.

Marriage is the most important contract you will ever enter into. And that is why I agree with this domestic relations counselor that every couple should give themselves at least three years to find out these important facts about marriage.

BOSTON GLOBE: The Stately Dome.— Since 1921 the ice cream cone has been taking a licking in the District of Columbia. In another sense, it has not been taking a licking. For since 1921 it has been banned under a law barring sale of solid milk products smaller than half a pint.

Had the law been enforced, the repercussion might have been vast. Revolutions have occurred for less, witness Marie Antoinette's cake. But Congress, that guardian of the old order of things, has finally repealed the anti-ice-cream-cone law. All will soon be well.

This month is supposed to be the ice cream cone's 60th anniversary, it having been invented by a Syrian concessionaire, W. M. Hamwi, during a dish shortage at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis in 1904. Thus was necessity the mother of invention.

And now Congress, like fabled Kubla Khan, this stately pleasure dome decreed.

Polls Show Barry Has Slight Chance

By DREW PEARSON

ATLANTIC CITY—Best birthday present handed Lyndon Johnson on his 56th birthday was not the presidential nomination which was a foregone conclusion, but a series of confidential polls showing that it will be extremely difficult for Barry Goldwater to defeat him.

The equivalent of these polls are also in Goldwater's hands and are the chief reason the Republican candidate has been making so many moves to appease the moderate wing of the Republican party and to persuade the nation to forget his views on extremism.

The polls taken by the White House have been conducted privately, in conjunction with certain states, with both the national and state Democratic organizations splitting the cost. In general the results coincide with the results of nationally published polls.

Even if the polls are five per cent off, the maximum that the experts believe possible, Johnson is still safely out in front.

In Republican Maine, for example, poll-taker Oliver Quayle found the sentiment running almost 7 to 1 for Johnson. Unbelieving, he sent his pollsters back to check again. They came up with these confidential results: Johnson, 70 per cent, Goldwater 12 per cent, with 18 per cent undecided.

Quayle submitted the results to the White House with this firm comment: "We have checked and double-checked for some error in our work in this set of figures. There is no error."

The worst showing Johnson made in Quayle's quiz was in Indiana. Here, the careful poll-taker found Johnson leading Goldwater by only 51 to 35 per cent with 14 per cent undecided. Leaving out the undecided vote, this gave the president a 56 to 44 lead.

In his confidential report to the White House, Quayle commented: "The story in Indiana is that, at 56 per cent, the president is still well ahead and full 11 points ahead of the 45 per cent scored here by the late President Kennedy. Again, this was before the showdown in the Gulf of Tonkin. There is every likelihood that the president can pick up 13 electoral votes in Indiana that Mr. Kennedy did not.

"If he can hold his present lead here, he will probably also get 26 more denied Kennedy in Ohio, 10 in Wisconsin, and 26 that Mr. Kennedy very nearly lost in Illinois."

Quayle made careful surveys in two other states where Alabama Governor George

Boy Needs Some Solitude

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Or five-year-old boy's bedtime is 30 minutes later than his sister's. We let him stay up after she goes to bed because we supposed that he would go more willingly if we did this. But he fights this later bedtime almost as stubbornly as he used to fight the old one. There is no excuse he won't use to keep me running up and downstairs to him after he goes to bed. . . .

Answer: Can't you tell him you don't want to be with him every single minute? You don't, you know. We are only required to be with a child every single minute before he is born. After he's born, he begins to spend some time by himself, sleeping, napping, enjoying the sight of his toes and the feeling of a full stomach.

Gradually, he is able to enjoy more solitary time, getting acquainted with the use of his arm and leg muscles, with his toys. So he has some experience of satisfying solitude behind him by the time he reaches the age of 5.

State Group Optimistic About Slate

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Missouri Democratic delegates started home today, optimistic that the new party ticket of President Johnson and Sen. Hubert Humphrey will produce a much bigger victory margin in November than four years ago.

Selection of Humphrey—a middle westerner—as the President's running mate boosted the confidence the Missourians felt at the start of the convention.

Gov. John M. Dalton freely predicted a state victory margin of 100,000 votes, compared with the 8,800-vote margin for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1960.

Good times, geography, personalities and reaction against Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican nominee, were listed by Dalton as reasons for his confidence.

Dalton has urged both the President and Humphrey to come to the state for campaign speeches. No dates have been set but President Johnson said in his acceptance speech Thursday night that Humphrey would be available to go to all 50 states.

The Missourians who had remained calm through the first three days of the convention let their hair down Thursday and staged a donkey parade on the famous boardwalk. Gov. and Mrs. Dalton led the delegates in the hi-jinks which included three donkeys and a miniature car.

Complete harmony appeared on the surface for the delegation. Whatever hard feelings were left over from the state's recent primary election were shunted aside for this week. Only two potential sources of trouble appeared—selection of a delegation chairman and the seating of southern delegates. Both were resolved without trouble.

The chartered plane for the Missouri delegates will leave Philadelphia this afternoon for the three-hour flight home. There was last minute swapping of reservations as some delegates decided to remain in this area longer and other residents quickly took the reservations.

Fall From Elevator Kills Neosho Youth

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A 51-foot fall from the Paymaster grain elevator killed Albert Sherman Akehurst, 19, of Neosho, Mo., Thursday.

Akehurst was riding up an escalator-type conveyor with a box when the box struck an obstruction and knocked him off. He died later in Northwest Texas Hospital.

Akehurst was an employee of Borton Construction Co., of Hutchinson, Kan., which was doing remodeling work at the elevator.

The Highway Patrol reported the luggage blew off a 1961 Ford stationwagon driven by Ernest Terrence Wilson, 37, Warrensburg. The westbound 1964 Ford gravel truck was driven by William M. C. Burns, 30, Sedalia.

Police Reports

A visitor to Sedalia told police his car was broken into, two suitcases ransacked and a .22 caliber derringer pistol removed from the glove compartment overnight Thursday.

A. L. Moreland, who is visiting at 602 South Monticau, reported the break-in to police at 8 a.m. Friday. He said he had parked the car at 10:30 p.m. at the rear of the address.

Investigation revealed the thief apparently gained entrance by probing a wire through an open wing glass. The suitcases were opened and ransacked, but no loss was reported from them.

A Sedalian reported to police his hip pants pocket was cut open and $50 stolen from his billfold while he was at the Harris Barbecue, 119 North Broadway, Thursday night.

Harold Cramer, 618 East 14th, informed police of the theft at 6 a.m. Friday after an officer had been summoned to the Cramer address. Police were told the thief also slashed Cramer's billfold in the process, cutting a $1 bill in half.

Police investigated a prowler report at 10:20 p.m. Thursday at 1015 East Seventh and found a back door at the residence bore pry marks — apparently made by a screwdriver or small tool.

Frank Owens New Boeing Base Manager

Mr. Frank J. Owens has been appointed by the Boeing Company as Base Manager for the Missouri Minuteman missile operation, replacing Mr. Robert M. Severide who will be departing Whiteman in the near future. The change was effective Aug. 17, according to an announcement by Mr. Harry Hotchkiss, Boeing Industrial Relations division.

Mr. Owens assumes this position upon the departure of Mr. Severide, who has been the Boeing Base Manager for the past three years during the installation of the Fourth Minuteman Missile Wing. Mr. Severide now assumes the title of Manufacturing Manager for the Boeing Company Mo. Laboratory Program in Seattle, Wash.

Owens, who began his career with Boeing in 1927, was born in Seattle, Wash., where he attended public schools and the University of Washington. He also attended New York University.

He has been Base Manager at Suffolk AFB, Long Island, N.Y.; Langley AFB, Newport News, Va.; Kincheloe AFB, Saulte Ste. Marie, Mich.; Station North Bay, Ontario, Canada, and was project manager for Boeing activities at missile bases in New Mexico. He also has held manufacturing and assembly posts at Boeing's Industrial Products Division and Transport Division plants in the Seattle area.

Owens most recent assignment was Boeing Base Manager for Boeing operations at Warren AFB, Wyo. He and his wife, Mary, have two grown children.

Short Kiwanis Meet

There was no formal program at the Thursday noon meeting of the Sedalia Kiwanis club, presided over by President M. L. Edwards. The limited meeting was planned in order to permit members to attend the Missouri State Fair that afternoon. Invocation was by the Rev. Charles B. Cheffey. Kiwanian Cecil T. Rooks, of Eldora, Ia., was a guest.

White House. If there are no channels, how will decisions be made and relayed?

But though uneasy, the professionals have the impression that the President will win big. In an odd way they resent the thought. They think this will confirm forever Johnson's reputation as a political genius, and they don't like it. Certainly not in terms of organization.

Similarly, the Kennedy following and the liberals are somewhat resentful. To them Johnson appears as a man who is unmoved by ideas and ideals; he is not a political thinker with magnificence of mind, and they would keep him from the temple.

But in his acceptance speech he did define his concept of the great society: "A place where the meaning of man's life matches the marvels of man's labors."

In elaborating on this theme he came close to urging the same goal for society that John Kennedy did. The pursuit of happiness is an end value for social organization, and Mr. Kennedy's concept of the happy life, borrowed from the ancient Greeks, was "The exercise of vital powers along lines of excellence in a life affording them scope."

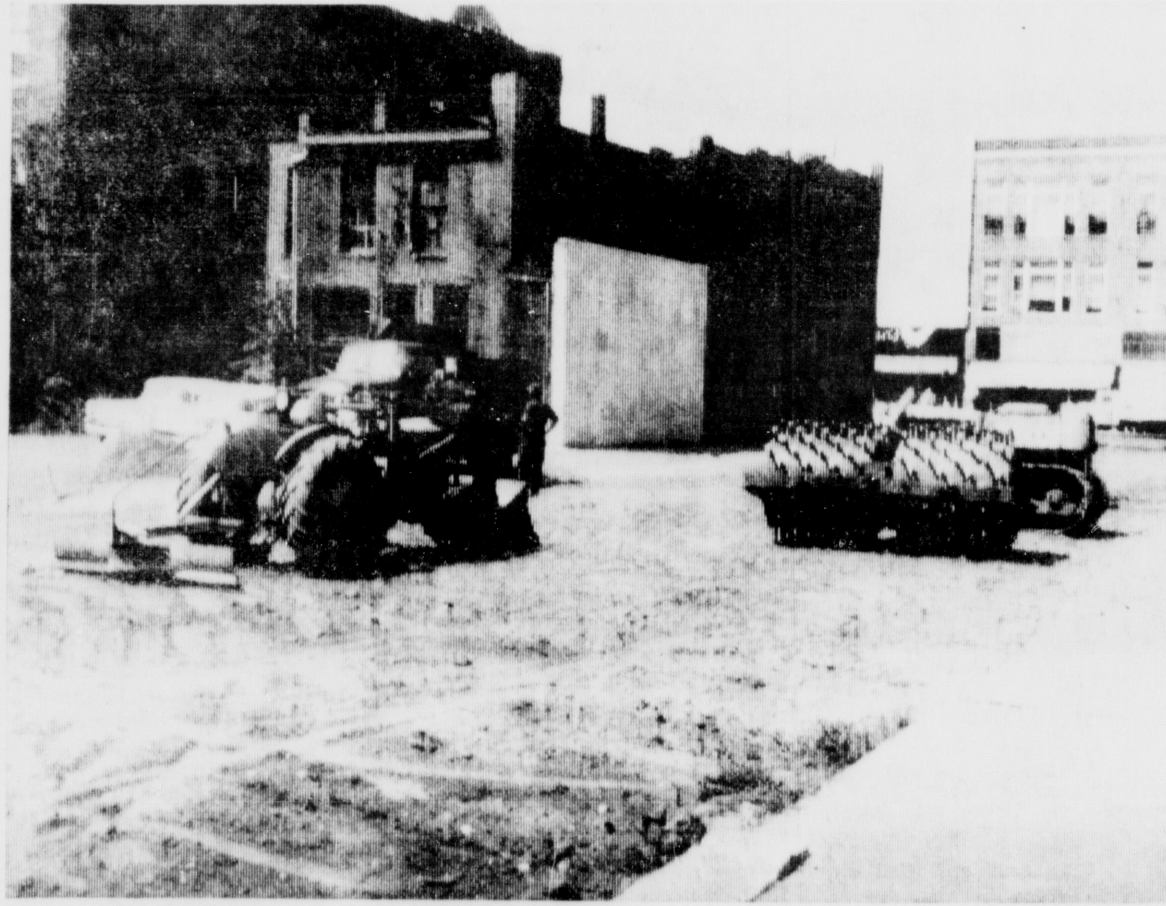

This is, as Edith Hamilton observed, a concept only for people who are prepared to live life. And that President Johnson obviously is.

For 12th Running

Modified Stocks, Drivers Set To Take Track Tonite

Modified stock cars and their drivers are set to take the track Friday night as the 12th annual running of the State Modified Stock Car Championship inaugurates what promises to be another big weekend of auto racing at the Missouri State Fair.

Following the modifieds Saturday will be the 100-mile Missouri International for late model stock cars during the afternoon and a class field of colorful midget race cars Saturday night. And on Sunday will come the fair's premier speed sport classic, the Missouri Futurity for speedway-type cars in the afternoon.

Last Saturday Bill Utz of Sedalia tabbed himself the man to beat for the state modified crown as he bested four other qualifying heat winners in a special match race.

But it's axiomatic among race drivers that it's not over until the checkered flag falls, and there are 24 other drivers who'll be out there determined that

Weekend Fishing Forecast

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Conservation Commission reports that although most streams and lakes in the state are still low and clear there has been some improvement in fishing since cooler temperatures and rains moved in.

Here is the commission's report on conditions in various regions:

Osage River—Above Lake of the Ozarks, water low and dingy; cat, carp, drum and bass are best catches in that order; below Lake of Ozarks, river is normal; crappie are hitting minnows, channel cat are hitting shrimp, wome walleye biting lower down on river.

South Grand River—Low and dingy; fishing poor for all species.

Pomme de Terre—Above lake, dingy; best catches on carp, cat and bass. Below lake, clear to dingy, bass, cat, drum and carp, all good.

James River —Clear in lower end, murky in upper end, channel cat and bass rated fair.

Elk River — Clear and low; bass fair, channel cat fair to good.

Gasconade River — Clear and very low; goggle-eye are taking minnows, channel cats taking minnows and crappie.

Sac River — Normal, level, clear in upper regions, dingy in lower end; bass, cat both rated fair.

Current River — Upper end clear and normal, lower end muddy and slightly high; bass and goggle-eye taking spawner in clear water and walleye fair in front of rise.

Jacks Fork — Dingy to clearing, bass hitting top water lures at night.

Four Trout Areas — All normal and clear, trout fishing excellent.

they'll be the first to see the victory bunting.

Not only that, but there are three former champions in the field, two of whom are seeking a third victory, an elusive feat achieved only by the near-legendary Torch Aleshire of Moberly in 1954, '55 and '56.

The two double winners competing here Friday night are Junior Hower of Kansas City (1957 and 1960) and Ken Taylor of Slater (1958-59). The other ex-champ is last year's victor, Russell Hibbard of Slater.

The full field of 25 drivers set for the 50-lap feature which follows Class "B" competition in two heats and a "B" title chase booked to get under way at 7 p.m. bristles with highly regarded stylists of the smoke paths. Here they are, in the order of the start:

Tom Corbin, Carrollton; Russell Hibbard, Slater; Jack Belk, Joplin; Bud McCune, Laclede; Bill Utz, Sedalia.

Bob Ford, Marshall; Wes Ferland, Kansas City; Jerry Weld, Kansas City; Junior Hower, Kansas City; Ken Taylor, of Slater.

Woodward climaxed the first-inning outburst with a three-run double and knocked in another run with a single.

Hank Aaron drove in a pair of runs while Lee Maye ended the 16-hit barrage with a homer in the eighth.

Jimmie Hall scored the tie-breaking run in the Twins' ninth on a double seal and a throwing error by Chicago catcher J. Martin. Hall had singled and advanced to second on a walk to Bob Allison. When the runners tried a double steal, Martin threw the ball past third base, permitting Hall to come.

Minnesota added two more runs in the inning on Bernie Allen's single and Ed Fisher's wild pitch. The game had been tied 2-2 since the fifth when the White Sox rallied for two runs on Pete Ward's homer and Mike Hersherberger's run-scoring single.

Detroit, trailing 4-2, rallied for three runs in the eighth inning against the Red Sox. Jerry Lumpe tripled in one, and Don Demeter knocked in the other two with a double off relief ace Dick Radatz. Fred Gladding halted a Boston threat in the eighth inning, retiring Dick Stuart on a grounder with the bases loaded.

Joe Adcock's 300th career homer was one of three for the Angels. The two-run blast off Kansas City loser Diego Segui highlighted a four-run second inning. Willie Smith and Lenny Green also connected for Los Angeles. Adcock added two singles and another RBI.

George Brunet was credited with the victory, but left the game after Ken Harrelson's pinch hit homer in the seventh. He was relieved by Bob Lee. Diego Segui was the loser.

The St. Louis Cardinals, idle Thursday after sweeping a three game set with the Pittsburgh Pirates, will play the Los Angeles Dodgers tonight in St. Louis.

Ray Sadecki will be trying to win his 16th game against nine losses. The 23-year-old lefty will face the Dodgers' Phil Ortega. The Athletics will send Orlando Pena (11-12) against the Cleveland Indians' Sonny Siebert in Kansas City tonight.

Adcock is one of eight active players on the 300-homer list. The all-time list includes 23 players. Colavito has 299.

Adcock's 300th was a two-run, 410-foot shot to left-center, on a fast ball by Segui with a count of two balls and no strikes in the second inning.

"It was a long time coming—13 days," Adcock said. "Rocky congratulated me when he singled in the sixth inning. I told him I was pulling for him to get his soon."

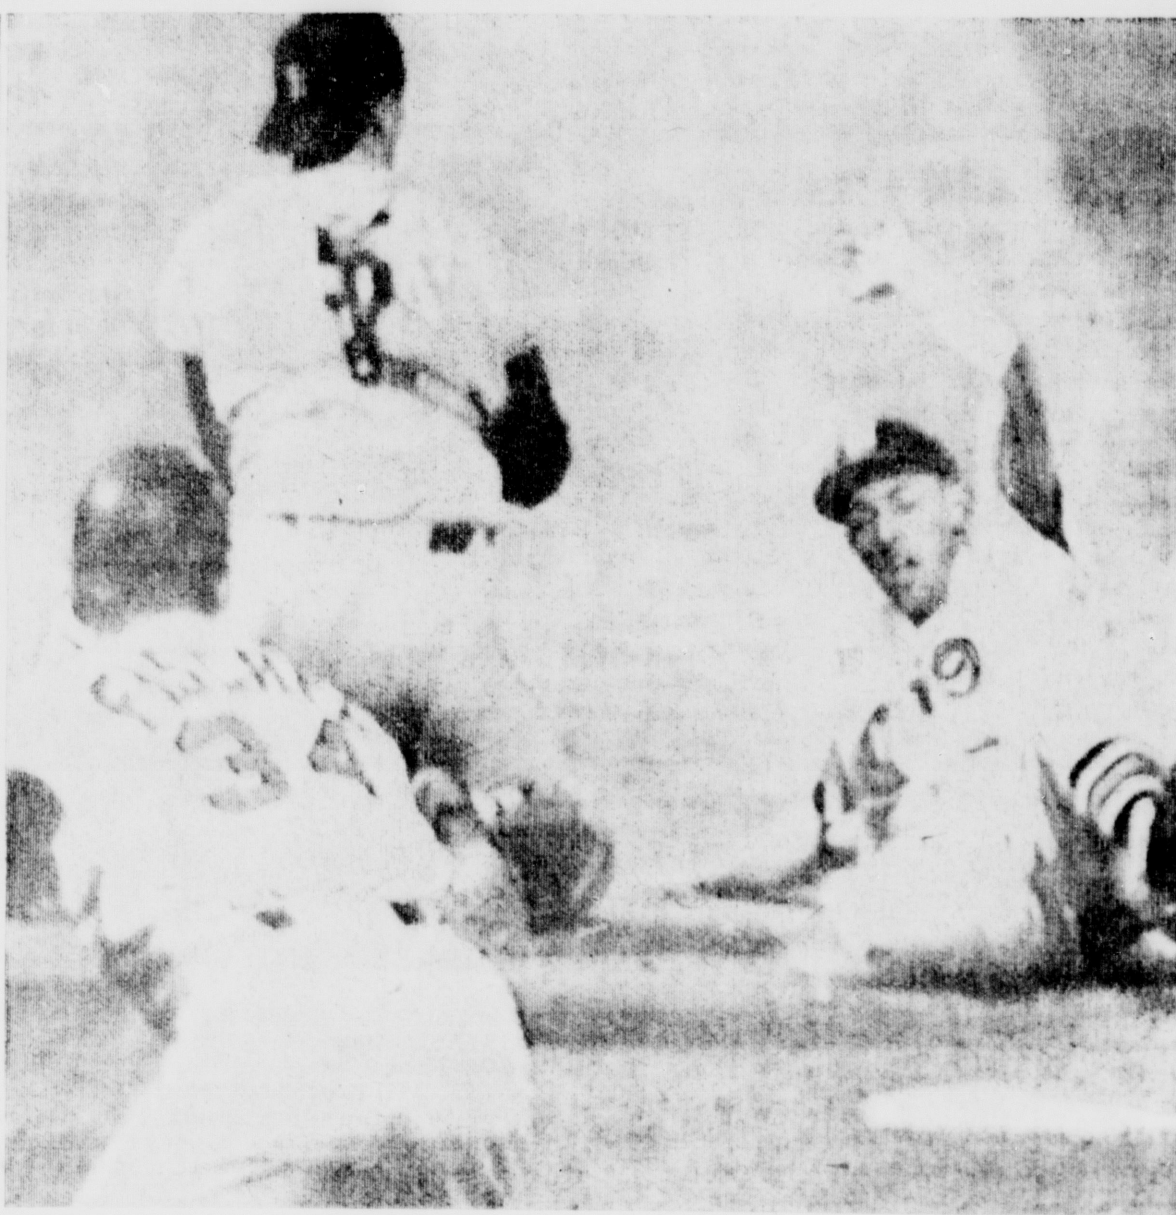

This is my favorite ball park. I guess—you know, I got my 1000th run batted in here last month."

The 6-foot-4, 232-pound slugger from Coushatta, La., has hit some memorable homers in his 15 seasons in the majors. One landed in the centerfield bleachers at New York's Polo Ground well over 500 feet. Another cleared the trees in center at Milwaukee's County Stadium. He's the only man to clear the roof at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn.

Adcock has hit only two homers in Los Angeles this season compared to 15 on the road. His home park is the toughest in the game for home run hitters because of the long fences and the dense air. He is batting .278, just under his lifetime average.

Of the 300-homer club members, only Rogers Hornsby, past 37, was older than Adcock when he reached the goal. But he's ready to move up on the list.

"I'll see you next season, the Man Above willing," he said.

MILWAUKEE — Dennis Menke, Milwaukee Braves shortstop, scores from second base as the ball gets away from San Francisco Giants catcher Tom Haller in the seventh inning of the Braves-Giants game. Woodie Woodward.

Braves second baseman, hit a single to center fielder J. Alou, who threw to the plate. Woodward went to second and drew a throw from Haller to second. Menke went home on the play and was safe. (UPI Telephoto)

Milwaukee Edges 'Frisco; Detroit Nips Boston 5-4

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hank Fischer, who had failed to last two innings in each of his previous four starts, pitched a three-hitter as Milwaukee pummeled San Francisco 13-0 Thursday night.

The American League-leading Orioles were idle, but they open a vital four-game series tonight with the Chicago White Sox whose 5-2 loss to Minnesota Thursday put them one-half game behind the Orioles.

The teams played a four-game series last weekend, with Baltimore winning three times and moving from one-half game behind the White Sox to 1½ in front. The upcoming four games — two tonight and one each Saturday and Sunday — will be the last between the contenders.

Milwaukee gave Fischer a quick edge against the Giants, and the 24-year-old right-hander used it to great advantage.

In those previous four starts, Fischer didn't give the Braves a chance to build a lead for him. He was battered for 18 runs in four innings in the appearances, running from Aug. 2 through Aug. 15.

The game was the only one in the National League. In other American League games, Detroit nipped Boston 5-4, and Los Angeles bombed Kansas City 7-1.

Fischer received strong support from Rico Carty and Woody Woodward, who each drove in four runs. Carty ignited a six-run first inning with a homer and later tripled in three runs.

Woodward climaxed the first-inning outburst with a three-run double and knocked in another run with a single.

Hank Aaron drove in a pair of runs while Lee Maye ended the 16-hit barrage with a homer in the eighth.

Jimmie Hall scored the tie-breaking run in the Twins' ninth on a double seal and a throwing error by Chicago catcher J. Martin. Hall had singled and advanced to second on a walk to Bob Allison. When the runners tried a double steal, Martin threw the ball past third base, permitting Hall to come.

halted a Boston threat in the eighth inning, retiring Dick Stuart on a grounder with the bases loaded.

Joe Adcock beat Rocky Colavito into baseball's select 300-homer circle Thursday, then hinted broadly his career is far from finished, although he's closing in on 37.

"I've felt better this year than for a long time," said the big first baseman of the Los Angeles Angels. "This was my 100 game and I'd have 30 homers easy this year if I could hit 'em at home like I do on the road." He has 17 homers this season.

The Angels battered Kansas City pitching for 13 hits including homers by Adcock and Lenny Green for a 7-1 victory and a three-game sweep against the A's.

George Brunet was credited with the victory, but left the game after Ken Harrelson's pinch hit homer in the seventh. He was relieved by Bob Lee. Diego Segui was the loser.

Bloody Riots In Saigon

Ruling Junta Elects Khanh As New Leader

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The ruling military revolutionary council elected Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh and two other top generals to run South Viet Nam for the next two months, Radio Saigon announced.

This development in the political crisis came amid bloody new riots in Saigon.

A crowd of 2,000 marched on the council's compound, calling on the 60 members to resist student and Buddhist demands for a governmental shakeup.

Vietnamese troops opened fire. They were ordered to shoot over heads of the demonstrators, but three were reported killed and more than 20 wounded. The rest retreated.

Roman Catholic and Buddhist youths battled in a rain in the capital's streets. The Saigon radio station and a technical high school were focal points. Several persons were wounded, apparently knifed.

Called on to share rule with Khanh were Lt. Gen. Tran Thi Khiem, former defense minister, and Maj. Gen. Duong Van (Big) Minh, the former chief of state. Khanh supplanted Minh Aug. 16. That was the day the council elected the 37-year-old strong man to the presidency.

Leaflets dropped over the city from a Vietnamese army helicopter announced the present caretaker government will continue for a maximum of two months and then will name a provisional national congress which will pick a chief of state and establish other national organizations.

The leaflets, signed by the full council, also said the council itself has been dissolved and the generals and other members of the council would go back to their military duties.

They said the new government will fight communism, colonialism and dictatorship. The controversial Aug. 16 constitution was abrogated as of today.

Two Brothers Charged With Wounding Man

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP) — Two Kansas City brothers were charged with felonies Thursday in connection with the wounding of a Waverly man Monday night following a raid on a peach orchard.

The Waverly man, Calvin Theodore Burkhardt, 38, was wounded in the back and hip in the incident. He told authorities he caught two men stealing peaches and while he was holding them for officers, two other men came up behind him and shot him. He said he fired as all the men fled and saw one of them stumble and fall and then be helped away by his companions.

The brothers, Chester Cordray, 24, and Thomas Cordray Jr., 18, were placed under bonds of $5,000 each and hearings set for Sept. 3 in magistrate court at Lexington. Chester is charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm and Thomas with attempted kidnapping.

GOVERNMENT HEADS NAMED — Rioting broke out in Saigon Thursday as three generals were named to run the South Vietnamese government. The ruling military revolutionary council chose a junta consisting of, left to right, Major-General Nguyen Khanh, self-deposed President; Major-General Duong Van Minh, a favorite of the Buddhists; and General Tran Thi Khiem, a Catholic. In addition, Khanh, who is a Buddhist, was named to continue as head of the caretaker government, which will continue in office until national legislative elections are held.

Feeling Of Unity Among Democrats

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The big worry of the Democrats — that their convention might deepen the split between the Southerners and the rest of the party — has given way to a feeling that a high degree of unity has been achieved.

The healing hand of President Johnson, shrewd and tireless work by party leaders, and the stubborn loyalty of many Southerners helped replace the fears with optimism.

Among the results of all their efforts were:

—A platform called "tolerable and tolerant" by a Florida senator.

—A plea for party unity by the governor of Georgia.

—Praise for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as the vice-presidential candidate from a South Carolina senator.

—The sight of the Alabama standard bobbing in the ecstatic demonstration following Johnson's nomination, although Gov. George C. Wallace had urged the delegates to come home.

No Southern leaders were claiming all their problems are solved, but there is a visible lessening of the gloom that followed the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater by the Republicans and their announced intention of breaking the traditional hold of the Democrats on the South.

The Democrats began their efforts to strengthen loyalty before the convention opened. They adopted a platform tolerance of which was hailed by Sen. Spessard Holland of Florida. And they worked out a compromise in a Mississippi seating dispute that, while accepted by neither party side in the argument, prevented an emotional flareup.

Another seating dispute in Alabama was handled so deftly its potential for disorder could never be realized.

Once the convention started, Southerners were given conspicuous roles in which to demonstrate their support for Johnson and Humphrey.

Presence Somewhat Chilly

Formidable Personality Makes LBJ Fans Uneasy

By J. A. DEAR
Democrat-Capital
Convention Correspondent

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — It isn't Lyndon Johnson's thinking that makes people uneasy, it's his formidable personality.

Out in San Francisco Barry Goldwater terrified with ideas and concepts that seem extreme to many. Yet Goldwater has a warmth that surely springs from the heart. He is an engaging personality; he would be a welcome guest at dinner.

But President Johnson, whose political genius is composed in part of an uncanny ability to resolve "differences among men of deep conviction," is quite another type.

Cicero once wrote of a dinner party he gave for Caesar: "It passed off perfectly delightfully . . . a formidable guest, but he left no regret behind. . . we were all friends together. Still he isn't the sort of guest to whom one would say, 'Be sure to look me

With Speeches

Democrats Wind Up Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Democrats whipped through the final stages Thursday of a national convention featuring President Johnson's second acceptance speech and Hubert H. Humphrey's first.

This is the team the convention completed by acclamation in Thursday's early hours — the President for president and the Minnesota senator for vice president — to tight it out in the fall campaign with Republicans Barry Goldwater and William E. Miller.

Johnson paid a sudden visit to the convention Wednesday night, to make what amounted to a nominating speech for the man he had tapped a few hours earlier to be his running mate. It also was what amounted to an acceptance speech for his own nomination by the convention a few minutes before. The President thanked the delegates for honoring him and promised them an overwhelming victory in November.

But the formal acceptance speeches were held off until Thursday night's closing session of the 34th Democratic National Convention.

Humphrey was ready with his Wednesday night. But it was put off when the convention ran overtime in blasts of enthusiasm and whoop-it-up demonstrations for the candidates.

Over the weekend, Johnson and Humphrey — perhaps the only Democrat in sight who can match the President in zip, zest and energy for politicking — will hold up at the LBJ Ranch in Texas talking strategy.

The broad sweep of it obviously is going to be to pound away on a theme of peace and prosperity for the people while hammering at Goldwater as a man of uncertain meanings wanting to keep a loose finger on the nuclear weapons trigger.

Wednesday night's nominating session of the convention was as smooth as glass — a show of unity, any friction submerged.

In platform and in convention procedure, there were nods to a sometimes dissident South. And for liberals there was the nomination of Humphrey, a man of liberal political stripe.

Alabama stepped gracefully out of the way to let Texas put Johnson's name in nomination. An Alabama delegate nominated Gov. Carl Sanders for the vice presidency. And Sanders promptly got out of the way of Humphrey with a combination of a withdrawal speech for Sanders and a warm salute to the Minnesota senator.

And it was Southerners who put the motions — adopted without audible dissent — to nominate both Johnson and Humphrey by acclamation.

The Democrats will be going home in a rare degree of harmony.

Acceptance Speech By Humphrey

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, with praise for President Johnson and taunting barbs for Barry Goldwater, thanked the Democratic National Convention Thursday night for acclaiming him its 1964 vice-presidential nominee.

He told the delegates in a prepared speech: "I am honored to be asked to stand and work beside President Johnson. I offer to him and to you all the resources of my mind and heart."

And he gave his party a taste of his campaign oratory as he contrasted his image of Johnson with his image of Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

"The President of the United States," he said, "must be a man of calm and deep assurance, a man of clear mind and sound judgment, a man who can stand crisis without faltering, a man who can lead, a man who can decide and a man of purpose and conviction. Lyndon Johnson is that man."

Then, with the kind of Democratic verbal flailing that has so delighted delegates this week, he summed up his case for the view that Goldwater is not that man.

"The American presidency," Humphrey said, "is not the place for a man who is impetuous at one moment and indecisive the next; who is violently for something one day, and violently opposed the next; whose statements on matters of major policy are so confusing and contradictory that neither friend nor foe knows where he stands."

Humphrey left no doubt about whom he was talking. Departing from the traditional practice of not publicizing the name of your opponent, he called out the name of Goldwater four times.

And he poked at Goldwater by referring to the conservative hold on the Republican party in transitory terms.

"The temporary Republican spokesman," Humphrey called him, and he said Goldwater "is not only out of tune with the

Sedalia, Kansas City Day Turns Into Real Fair Day

Livestock Parade Is Grandstand Highlight

Sedalia and Kansas City Day, (Big Thursday) at the Missouri State Fair turned into a real fair day, hot, dusty and noisy. A good delegation of Kansas Citians were on the grounds along with thousands of Sedalians who were having "their day" at the fair.

Among the Kansas City visitors were members of the Ethan Shepley for Governor Victory Caravan, who came in a bus. The Republican delegation attended a luncheon at the Holiday Inn where they were joined by Sedalia Republican leaders.

In the afternoon Candidate Shepley, along with Jean Paul Bradshaw, candidate for United States Senator; Jewett M. Fulker, candidate for Lt. Governor; and Robert B. Langworthy, candidate for Congress from the Fifth Congressional District, Kansas City, visited the GOP State Headquarters tent on the fair grounds where they greeted fair visitors from over the state.

Also on the grounds during the day was Attorney General Thomas F. Eagleton, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senator from St. Louis, who was accompanied by his son Terry, his brother, Dr. Mark Eagleton, Jr., St. Louis, and two children, Mimi and David Eagleton, and Assistant Attorney General Eugene G. Bushmann. The Attorney General visited the State Democratic Headquarters tent where he met many Missourians.

There was no planned program for either Sedalians or Kansas Citians, the visitors milling around the grounds seeing the many exhibits and seeing old friends.

The Grand Champion was the Junior Champion Bull of the show.

Friday is Kid's Day at the fair and all children under 12 will be admitted free to the fair. Children will also get reduced rates on the many rides.

Bands on the grounds Thursday came from Peculiar, Brunswick Westphalia, Slater, Marceline and Conway.

Highlighting the Thursday evening grandstand program was the million-dollar livestock and machinery parade. Prize and valuable livestock was lead around the parade route while every piece of moveable farm machinery was used in the parade.

The parade formed along the roadway in front of the Administration Building, routed through the paddock gate up along the mile race track in front of the grandstand and off of the track at a gate south of the grandstand. Several thousand fairgoers in the large bleachers and grandstand witnessed the spectacle.

The parade was led by members of the State Highway Patrol, Pettis County Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and Chief of Police of Sedalia William Miller, followed by the famous Whiteman Air Force Base Color guard.

Visiting high school bands on the grounds also participated. Missouri's Queen of Fairs Miss Jennifer Horton, of Stockton, Mo., began her reign over the remaining days of the Missouri State Fair, making personal appearances at the various activities on the grounds.

The 17-year-old, blue-eyed, brunette received the applause of fairgoers where ever she appeared. She represented the Stockton (Mo.) Black Walnut

Turn For Worse

ROME (AP) — President Antonio Segni took a grave turn for the worse Thursday. His doctors reported new urinary and intestinal complications and said his senses were "less alert."

The announcement apparently marked a new crisis in the 73-year-old president's struggle against the cerebral stroke that felled him Aug. 7.

Trail Of Destruction

Hurricane Cleo Moves Up Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The hammering winds of Hurricane Cleo laid a trail of wreckage across Miami and up Florida's "Gold Coast" Thursday but no one was killed.

While smashed windows, ripped awnings, fallen trees and power lines left Miami's streets looking like a battle zone, a strong building code adopted years ago in southeast Florida protected her citizens.

Lulled into a careless sense of security by a 14-year period in which Miami felt the wrath of only a single hurricane, many shop owners did not heed the warnings to board up.

After the hurricane, many of these found plate-glass windows smashed and interiors wrecked. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings.

Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 74 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

Still packing a 100-mile an hour punch, the hurricane then drew a head on the rocket pads of Cape Kennedy. A hurricane watch was declared by the Weather Bureau on up to Charleston, S.C.

While many confident Miami-ans enjoyed "Hurricane parties" in strongly built homes which easily took Cleo's most vicious punches, tourists on Miami Beach's famed "Hotel Row" suffered some uneasy moments.

"We were told a hurricane was coming but, my God, not this!" a frightened woman visitor cried after the wind blew out a window at the Fontainebleau Hotel and her hand was cut by a piece of flying glass.

Experiencing a tropical hurricane for the first time gave a thrill to some tourists. But others were shaken up when the wind smashed thousands of windows along the famed resort strip.

When store windows began to explode by hundreds in Miami, some looting was reported. One man shot by police was in critical condition in a hospital.

There was no definite early estimate of the damage to the Miami Metropolitan area, but County Manager Irving G. McNay said he would ask the federal government to declare the city a disaster area.

The Small Business Administration in Washington said action would be taken when the extent of damage is known.

The first winds of hurricane force screamed into Miami at 1:20 a.m. Power failure an hour later plunged the city into darkness.

For nearly four hours, gusts estimated at 115 miles an hour battered the area.

"This was the worst one since '26," said a veteran Miami policeman when the gray, windy dawn revealed the damage done by the storm.

He referred to the hurricane that devastated the area and knocked the bottom out of the great land boom of the '20s.

"If this same hurricane had hit then," the officer said, "a lot of people would have died. But people don't get killed in a hurricane here any more. No reason to."

Shift Made In Highway Patrol Zones

Trooper Glenn Means of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, effective Tuesday, Sept. 1, will be promoted to sergeant succeeding Sgt. Fred Barnes of Warrensburg who has resigned effective Aug. 31.

Lt. D. S. Gehrig, of Lee's Summit, headquarters for Troop A, announced Thursday the resignation of Barnes and the promotion of Means by Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the patrol, on recommendation of Capt. G. W. Pate, commander of Troop A.

As a result the resignation of Barnes and promotion of Means has brought about a realignment of the two zones in this east and southeast area. The new zones will be Pettis and Johnson Counties, which Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle will supervise and Benton and Henry counties under Sgt. Means. Changing the zones makes it possible for both Van Winkle and Means to remain in their present towns.

Means has been stationed at Warsaw for the past 16 years and Sgt. Van Winkle has been stationed in Sedalia for 11 years.

Prior to the change of zones, Benton and Pettis were together and Henry and Johnson the other zone. Sgt. Van Winkle has already taken over the new zone change, and Means is handling his new assignment.

Although Barnes' resignation does not become effective until Aug. 31, he left the patrol on Tuesday, having accumulated vacation time from then to his retirement effective date.

Bid To Bring Candidates To Missouri

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Democratic leaders were asked Thursday to bring Johnson and Sen. Hubert Humphrey to campaign in Missouri this fall.

Gov. John M. Dalton attended a party for Humphrey, the vice presidential nominee, that lasted until nearly 3 a.m.

"We told Walter Jenkins (administrative assistant to the president) and Cliff Carter (on the Democratic national committee) we wanted both the candidates in the state," Dalton said.

No commitments were made. Dalton praised the nomination of Humphrey for vice president as "real good for Missouri."

Missouri delegates were to stage a donkey parade on the boardwalk today before going back to Convention Hall for tonight's windup of the national convention. Dalton, describing it as a publicity gimmick, said from one to three donkeys would be led along the area.

Missouri delegates are scheduled to return home Friday afternoon in a chartered plane.

The delegation was in the forefront of Wednesday night's demonstrations for the two nominees.

Elected President

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Rev. Frederic R. McManus was elected president of the National Liturgical Conference Thursday.

Father McManus is professor of canon law at Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

The Rev. Maur Burbach, prior of St. Pius 10th monastery in Pevely, Mo., was elected vice president.

MISS MISSOURI QUEEN OF FAIRS, Jennifer Horton and her court, first runner-up, Miss Karen Kay Thompson, and second runner-up, Miss Lynda Coker, pause in their rounds of the fairgrounds to pose for the camera. Miss Horton was crowned Wednesday evening and will reign over the fair for the rest of the week. Miss Horton represents the Stockton Black Walnut Festival, Stockton, Mo., and lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stockton, Highway 32, in Stockton. She is 17, a brunette and blue-eyed.

An Area for Growth...

"Open to the World!"

This was the proud proclamation of the first Fair Board announcing that the first Missouri State Fair would be held in Sedalia, September 9-13, 1901, after this community was awarded the location. Provision for a state exposition had been made the previous year by act of the General Assembly which called for an appropriation of state revenue in the amount of $15,000 to erect buildings and establish the fair.

Unbelievable as it may seem, the first Fair started with 19 buildings erected with that appropriation, attracted an attendance of 25,346 persons, and was such a success that after all the premiums and expenses had been paid a balance of $500 was left in the treasury.

Now appropriations for the Fair amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars; the capital investment on the expanded area of 276 acres in southwest Sedalia is more than $31½ million; the permanent buildings number 65, one of the largest of which—the Agriculture building erected in 1962—cost $270,000; and attendance yearly is over 250,000 persons.

These are interesting comparisons of a state sponsored exposition which reflect the economic, social and cultural life of Missouri for the benefit not only of Missourians but for the whole world embraced in the initial invitation of the Fair Board.

Through the many years of its existence and service to the people, the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia continues to merit recognition and approval within and beyond its borders. It is one of the nation's most comprehensive annual state expositions.

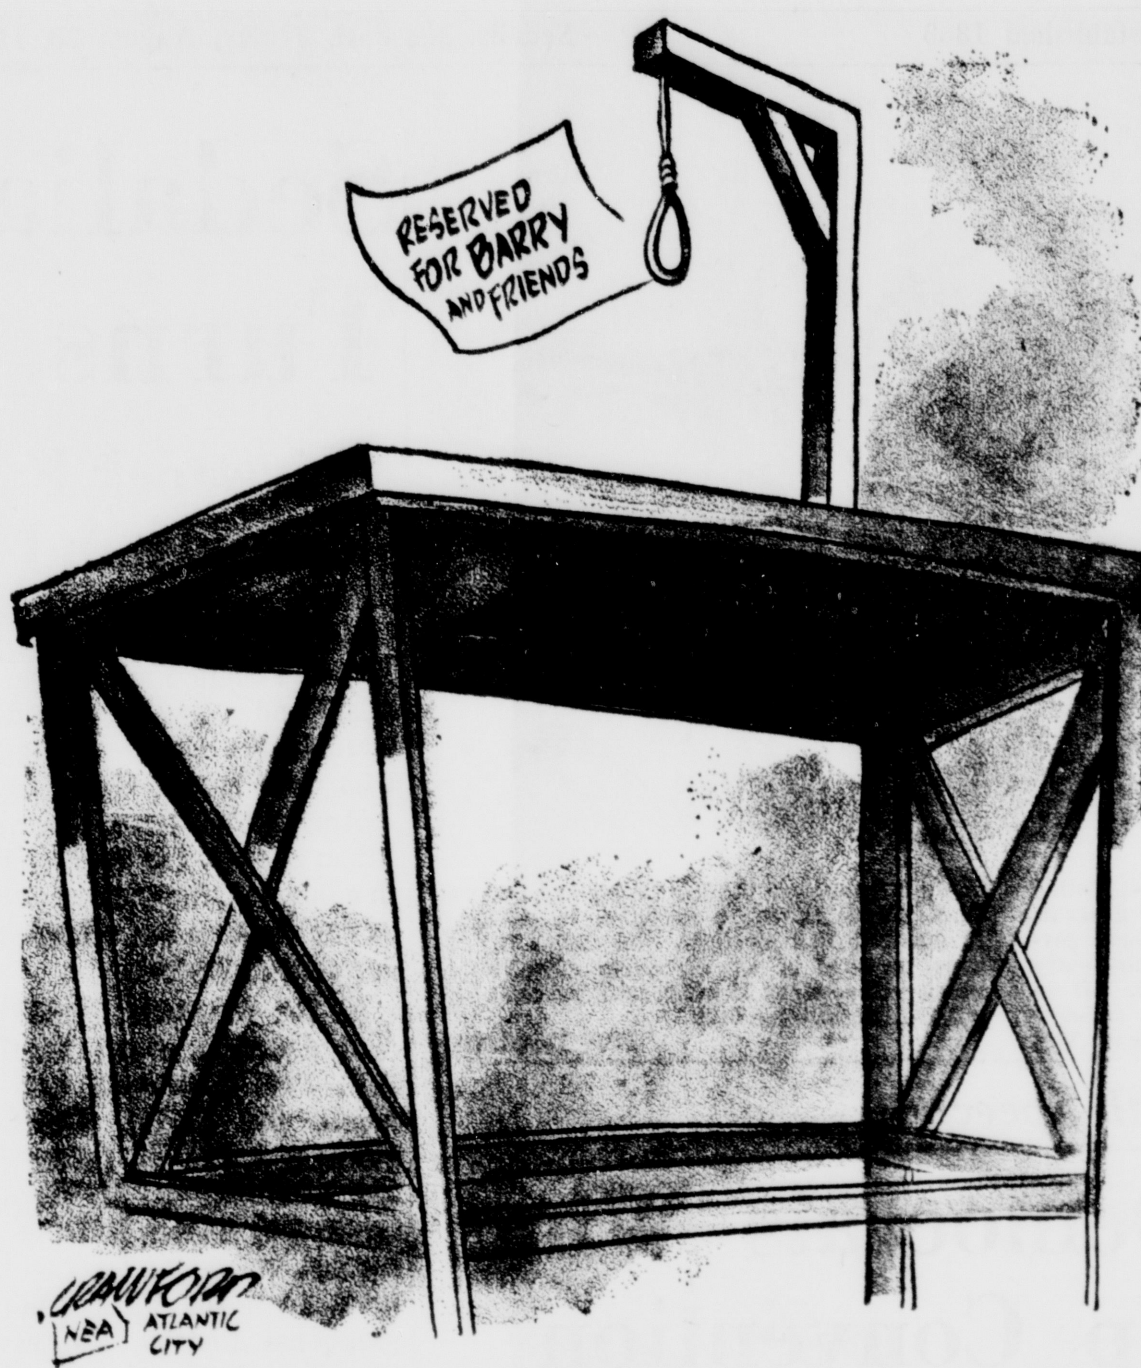

The support the fair has had by increased departmental entries, attractions and consequent attendance indicates state-wide public acceptance. This naturally suggests the need for growth, encouragement of new ideas for expansion and more improvements at the Missouri State Fair in the years ahead.

This is a challenge for progress which the Department of Agriculture and the Missouri General Assembly should accept at the next session in 1965.

In the meantime, consistent attendance at the Fair by the public, and particularly by Central Missourians, will have a salutary effect on those who have the authority to increase the stature of the state exposition which was originally proclaimed as:

"Open to the World!"

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Avoid Hay Fever By A Mountain Vacation

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Hay fever is almost never caused by hay and is rarely associated with fever. In fact, if you have fever with it you should look for some other cause. For this reason we doctors prefer to call it allergic rhinitis.

Hay fever may occur at any time of the year because a great variety of allergens may cause it, but for most victims—and there are about 9 million in the United States—the attacks start in early August. Sneezing, running nose and reddened eyes for most sufferers are ushered in with the pollination of ragweed plants and the misery lasts until the first frost.

The exact date when the pollination of ragweed or any other allergenic plant starts varies in different parts of the country and will vary in the same part from year to year because of changes in the weather. An unusually warm summer will not only cause earlier pollination but will also increase the quantity of pollen in the air.

This is especially true if the hot weather is attended by an abundant rainfall. The date of the first frost is also subject to variation.

For those victims who want to have a vacation in a region where the ragweed pollen count is low, most of Canada can be recommended. Other favored spots include the area west of the Cascade Mountains in Oregon and Washington, the woods of northern Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire and Maine, the central Adirondacks region and the southern tip of Florida. Ocean voyages are also pollen-free and pleasant (for those who do not get seasick).

Your vacation should be scheduled, if possible, to coincide with the period of heaviest pollination in your community.

It is important to treat your hay fever by every means known because it so often paves the way for serious infections in the sinuses and the middle ear. But you never should attempt to treat this disease without medical supervision.

The most effective treatment is the taking of desensitizing injections before the hay fever season starts. This can be done only after careful testing has revealed what allergen or allergens are causing hay fever in you.

For temporary relief of symptoms one of the many antihistamines may be prescribed by your doctor. The effectiveness of these drugs is greatly enhanced if they are given in combination with methylprednisolone. Nose drops and nasal sprays are best avoided because of the rebound reaction that occurs when the shrinking effect on the mucous membranes wears off.

Cooling Off Plans Into Hot Water

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration plans to put the hot potato of legislative reapportionment in the Senate cooler for awhile ran up against boiling opposition Friday from Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, told newsmen he will fight any sidetracking moves and will press for a showdown on his rider to delay enforcement of the Supreme Court's one man, one vote ruling.

Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, one of the leaders of the Democratic liberals opposing Dirksen's effort to attach his rider to the $3.3-billion foreign aid bill, told the Senate he looks for debate on what he termed the "malapportionment of legislatures" to continue for several weeks.

Douglas denied, however, that he and his supporters are conducting a filibuster.

"We have stood aside so the business of the Senate could proceed time and again," Douglas said.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., urged both sides to get together and work out a compromise next week while the Senate is in recess for the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. George Aiken, R-Vt., kept the debate roaring with a charge that the opposition to the Dirksen rider is being waged by senators from big city areas of "Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago and their suburbs." These are areas of political machines, Aiken said.

Douglas said public opinion polls show the people are opposed to Congress interfering with the high court's functions and debate will increase this opposition.

What brought Dirksen up fighting was a proposal by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to lay aside the reapportionment row when the Senate reconvenes on Aug. 31 and take up a bill boosting Social Security cash benefits.

This could lead to another prolonged battle because six Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee have announced they will try to include in the Social Security bill a health care for the aged plan favored by President Johnson.

US Negotiates Loan

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—The United States has loaned $3.8 million to Nigeria to aid in training teachers in northern Nigeria. The program is to produce 25,000 teachers, the number estimated by the government needed in the region by 1970.

FINDING THE WAY

Consider End Result

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"If I had known what was going to happen, I'd have never started it." That was the plaintive statement of a man who had passionately urged his listeners to act now. It began the tragic riots in Harlem. It blew the smoldering brush fires into a roaring forest fire. It awakened the dangerous frustrations into an eruption of shooting and looting, injuring persons and damaging property. When it is over there is that weeping moan, "If I had known."

How many times history has reduplicated that sigh. The assassin at Sarajevo could not have known he was setting off a tragic World War. The father with red-rimmed eyes says, "But I didn't know the gun was loaded." The hysterical gossip says, "But I simply repeated the story; I didn't want to break up the home." So the wave of irresponsibility rolls over mankind and time after time the careless act or the intended but undirected word, creates the panic.

Now that we're caught in a political campaign, with all manner of smoldering social frustrations, there is more reason than ever for disciplined words and acts. Almost every person confronts these frustrating moments when there's a temptation to lash out.

Judge Learned Hand, once speaking of the life of a jurist, wrote, "A judge's life, like every other, has in it much of drudgery, senseless bickering, stupid obstinacies, capricious petting, all disguising and obstructing the only sane purpose which can justify the whole endeavor. These take an inordinate part of his time; they harass and befog the unhappy wretch, and at times almost drive him from the bench where like any other workman he must do his work."

There's nothing remarkable about that desire to slam the mallet, say the word, yell at the crowd to get moving or pull the trigger. Every human being has felt that urge. But there's the greater urgency—namely, to consider the end result.

It doesn't take much of a man to start a fight; it takes a real person to keep the peace. It doesn't take much of a person to repeat the nasty gossip; it takes a real person to say the healing word. It doesn't take much of a person to smash his work because of his frustration; it takes a real person to keep faith even when the going's rough. It doesn't take much of a person to say the inflaming word; it takes a real person to direct the forces he's unleashed.

I can sympathize with the man who wept, "If I had only known what was going to happen I'd have never started it." I envy the man who said, "I've fought a good fight, I have finished the course." It doesn't take much of a person to start something; it takes a real person to see it through.

—A yard trash burner can be very ugly. I made one that I would be proud to place anywhere in the yard. Lay bricks in a circle about two feet in diameter, three inches between each brick. Next lay another row on top, putting the bricks over the open spaces below. Continue alternating rows in this way until 15 or 18 inches high. The air spaces provide good ventilation and trash burns perfectly. Twice a year I remove some front brick, clean out the ashes, replace the brick and it is ready for another six months' use.—MRS. T. W.

DEAR POLLY—I have saved

the life of many a girdle by mending it with nylon baby yarn. Keep it in the mending basket for mending hose, etc., where an especially strong but soft, elastic yarn is needed. I use it in different colors for sewing buttons. This also is a real money saver. Odds and ends left over from knitting also come in handy for these mending jobs.—EDITH

GIRLS—If you have ever tried to break nylon yarn when knitting, you know how strong it is. I have cut my fingers trying to break it.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I read the Pointer for using lemon juice for rust stains. Instead of spreading the garment in the sun after using the lemon juice, hold the spotted area over the spout of a steaming tea-kettle. The spots fade like magic. The most delicate colors are not harmed as they might be in the sun.—MARY

DEAR POLLY—The children and I have been in the hospital several times and I didn't discard those plastic bracelets we wore. Being a camping family, I finally found a use for them. I removed the hospital paper and inserted my own typed slips with a name on each, address and telephone number. I feel that if the kids are lost or we are in an accident, they will help identify someone. Any time we go on these trips we all wear them and never take them off until safely at home. They are waterproof and the kids love their own special bracelets.—VERA

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Democrats Start Without a Deficit

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—For the first time since the days of Andrew Jackson, the Democratic party is beginning a national convention with money in the bank.

It has $5,000,000 now on deposit and $10,000,000 in sight before election day. This compares favorably with the $12,000,000 which Barry Goldwater has set as the GOP goal. And for the Democrats it is unprecedented. In every presidential campaign in the memory of any living Democrat, there has been a deficit.

Adlai Stevenson spent all his time between the 1952 and 1956 campaigns working to pay off his deficit; then didn't make it. He began the 1952 campaign with a deficit inherited from Truman, and Truman in turn inherited one from FDR.

But this time the money has been coming in well in advance.

The Democrats also go into their Atlantic City convention with a tight-functioning personal organization run by none other than the president himself. Their Democratic national committee could be improved upon.

Lyndon Johnson spent a good part of his life studying politics at the feet of that amazing political genius, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and he is operating almost exactly the way FDR did. Roosevelt was able to phone a county chairman in Dubuque and say, "Joe, registration out your way isn't what I expected. We've got twelve more days to get 'em signed up to vote."

Johnson knows the diverse and intricate personalities of the Democratic politics equally well.

It will probably not be announced until after the Atlantic City convention, but here is the organization he has set up to carry the backbone of the election campaign:

Kenneth O'Donnell, former appointment secretary for President Kennedy, is acting as White House liaison man with Democratic state and city leaders. He was the White House aide closest to the late president.

Dick McGuire, another man extremely close to the late president, is chief money raiser.

Fred Dutton, who was one of Kennedy's liaison men with Capitol Hill and a former assistant to Gov. Pat Brown of California, is operating as Johnson's research man. He already has a loose-leaf notebook full of the inconsistencies in Barry Goldwater's speeches. Everything the GOP candidate has ever said has been card-indexed by Dutton.

Bill Meyers, one of the few Johnson men brought into the White House, is chief adviser on speeches. He checks over speeches

Guest Editorials

PROVIDENCE (R.I.) JOURNAL: A Disturbing Note.—A Canadian biologist from an atomic industry in Ontario reported to a scientific symposium in Bar Harbor, Maine, that the intelligence of rats subjected in succeeding generations to heavy doses of radiation is progressively and sharply reduced.

The results of this study on the inherited effects of radiation are not definitive by any means, but the references are disturbing.

The experiment suggests that nature has a way of reducing civilization once again to a cave man society, if man refuses to use the intelligence developed over the millenniums to control the awesome power of the atom that he had unlocked.

and speech ideas for every cabinet member or administration leader.

Leonard Marks, who has long served as Lady Bird's attorney, is money-raiser for business and citizen groups. He operates independent of the White House.

James Rowe, a campaign manager for Johnson when LBJ was in the Senate, is over-all coordinator for citizen's committees. He has set up Businessmen for Johnson. Rural Americans for Johnson, and other groups outside the Democratic national committee.

Larry O'Brien, another of Kennedy's closest aides, is still spending most of his time on congressional legislation, but when Congress adjourns will spend full time on the campaign.

Johnson has taken over all of the so-called Irish Mafia, the dedicated little group around the late president, and focused their efforts on the field which they know best, the big city organizations. He will also have Kennedy's former press secretary, Pierre Salinger, working in the campaign at one end of the continent, California, and the president's brother working at the opposite side of the continent, New York, both running for the Senate.

There was once some skepticism over the Irish Mafia's enthusiasm for Johnson, but not anymore. The minute Goldwater was nominated and continued his tearing down of the Kennedy program, every Kennedy man started working with grim determination for LBJ.

Bailey Will Stay

After Kennedy's election, his hand-picked Democratic national chairman, Henry "Scoop" Jackson, called at JFK's Georgetown residence to announce that as soon as the Senate convened he would resign as national chairman.

With some relief, Kennedy said, "thank God, I can now take care of John Bailey." Bailey, longtime Connecticut politician, is still functioning as Democratic chairman, and, despite some inside criticism, Johnson intends to keep him. Bailey is a loyal pedestrian with an A-1 knowledge of Democratic politics but little imagination. He made a family nest-egg by electing a Democratic governor in Connecticut, then setting up a family insurance corporation to sell insurance to the state. In one case, his son, son-in-law, and daughter made a $20,000 profit on an investment of $5,000. It was in the tradition of old-time Tammany-type politicians.

However, Bailey is a devoted Kennedy man and President Johnson intends to keep him. At present, he is being circumvented by Ken O'Donnell in the same way Bob Kennedy circumvented national chairman Scoop Jackson during the 1960 election.

A Fair Is Something Special

A fair is something special —

At least it is to me,

With such a lot of people

And noisy as can be —

A fair is just a fair, I guess.

Like ones we've always known,

With big displays of livestock

And things that have been grown —

There always are exhibits

Competing for the prizes

And always native wild life.

And fish all kinds and sizes

There are horse shows and horse racing.

Racing cars and thrill shows, too.

There's never any trouble

In finding things to do;

There's the show in front of the grandstand.

Country music with Leroy

You're pretty hard to please, I think.

If a fair you don't enjoy:

Parades, bands and music,

Flowers, hobbies, antiques, art,

We wander all around the grounds

Till we know the fair by heart —

The Midway, the machinery,

Teenagers strolling hand in hand,

The urge we always feel to stop

At each concession stand.

A fair is something special.

Might be the same, I know.

But I feel kinda sorry

For folks who don't like to go —

For those who don't like people,

Who don't find any fun

In even simply sitting

And watching everyone:

The time rolls by so quickly.

It doesn't seem a year,

But still it is upon us.

Another fair is here —

The flowers are gaily blowing

And the grass is nice and green.

And you run across people

Who for years you haven't seen.

"The same old thing" you say now,

Well, perhaps, but I don't care —

For me the fair is special

And you'll always find me there.

BRIGHT LIGHTS ON THE MIDWAY — The Missouri State Fair unofficially opened Friday night for a review by members of the press, radio and TV, with the midway lights shining brightly. Some 500 representatives of news media, and their families toured the fairgrounds, saw previews of shows, and were guests of Don Thomason, Commissioner of Agriculture and Fair Secretary W. H. Ritzenthaler, at a buffet style dinner served on the lawn at the fair secretary's home. The fair officially opened its nine day run Saturday morning, but many Sedallians were on hand for a look-see Friday night when the grounds were packed with people.
